Executive Summary

The Independent Colleges and Universities of Florida have 180 educational sites throughout Florida. Seven colleges offer on-line courses and degrees that can be accessed from any computer anywhere in Florida. ICUF institutions and satellite sites are located in all of Florida's larger cities and in rural locations throughout the state. More than 26,000 students attend ICUF classes at these satellite sites. Partnership agreements with 18 community colleges enable nearly 3,000 ICUF students to complete their bachelor degree studies at 38 community college campus sites.

Independent Higher Education Industry

Total enrollments at ICUF institutions range from approximately 90 to more than 23,000 students. The ICUF members include institutions that offer majors in liberal arts and sciences and include nursing and education, fine arts, engineering, information technology, computer science and other high-skill technical fields.

ICUF institutions are diverse and have various missions. They serve a variety of student populations and offer a wide selection of undergraduate, graduate, first-professional programs and continuing education studies. The institutions are dispersed throughout the state with their main campuses generally located in or near large cities, such as Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Orlando, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville, and Tampa. Several of Florida's smaller cities like Lake Wales, DeLand, Babson Park – are also home to ICUF universities and colleges

ICUF member institutions are striving to play an integral part in the task of educating Florida students. These institutions, while independent of state governance, consider themselves a vital part of Florida's educational structure. To that end, they have compiled an updated list of off-site/satellite locations.

These institutions reported offsite/satellite enrollment of over 26,000 students. In regard to online learning programs, these institutions are offering more online classes than this report indicates. This report focuses primarily on the on-line degree programs offered and not individual on-line courses, classes and labs.
