Coalition for College Cost Savings (CCCS)
www.thecoalition.us

The Coalition supports private, higher education member organizations and their member institutions across the United States. The mission of The Coalition for College Cost Savings is to support Higher Education Member Organizations (HEMO) by creating collaborative opportunities to transform processes, reduce cost, and increase efficiencies for their member colleges and universities.

By working cooperatively across geographical boundaries and consolidating their volumes of purchased supplies, equipment and services, higher education member organizations and The Coalition can reduce business operating costs and streamline internal processes for their member institutions. These increased efficiencies will allow member institutions to better serve their students, faculty, and communities and enrich all of private higher education.
